Dear Ms. McQueen:

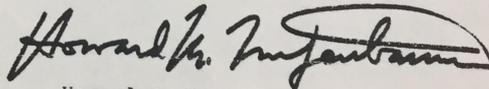

Thank you for your communication. I appreciate hearing from you.

I agree with you that a woman's decision on whether or not to bear a child is fundamentally a personal decision and should be made on the basis of individual conscience and health concerns, not proposed restrictive governmental legislation. You may be assured that I will continue to oppose measures that would deny a woman's right to make that decision.

Your support for my efforts is very encouraging. I will continue to do my part to help make the government more responsive to the needs and concerns of people. I hope that my actions in the future will merit your continued support.

Again, thank you for writing.

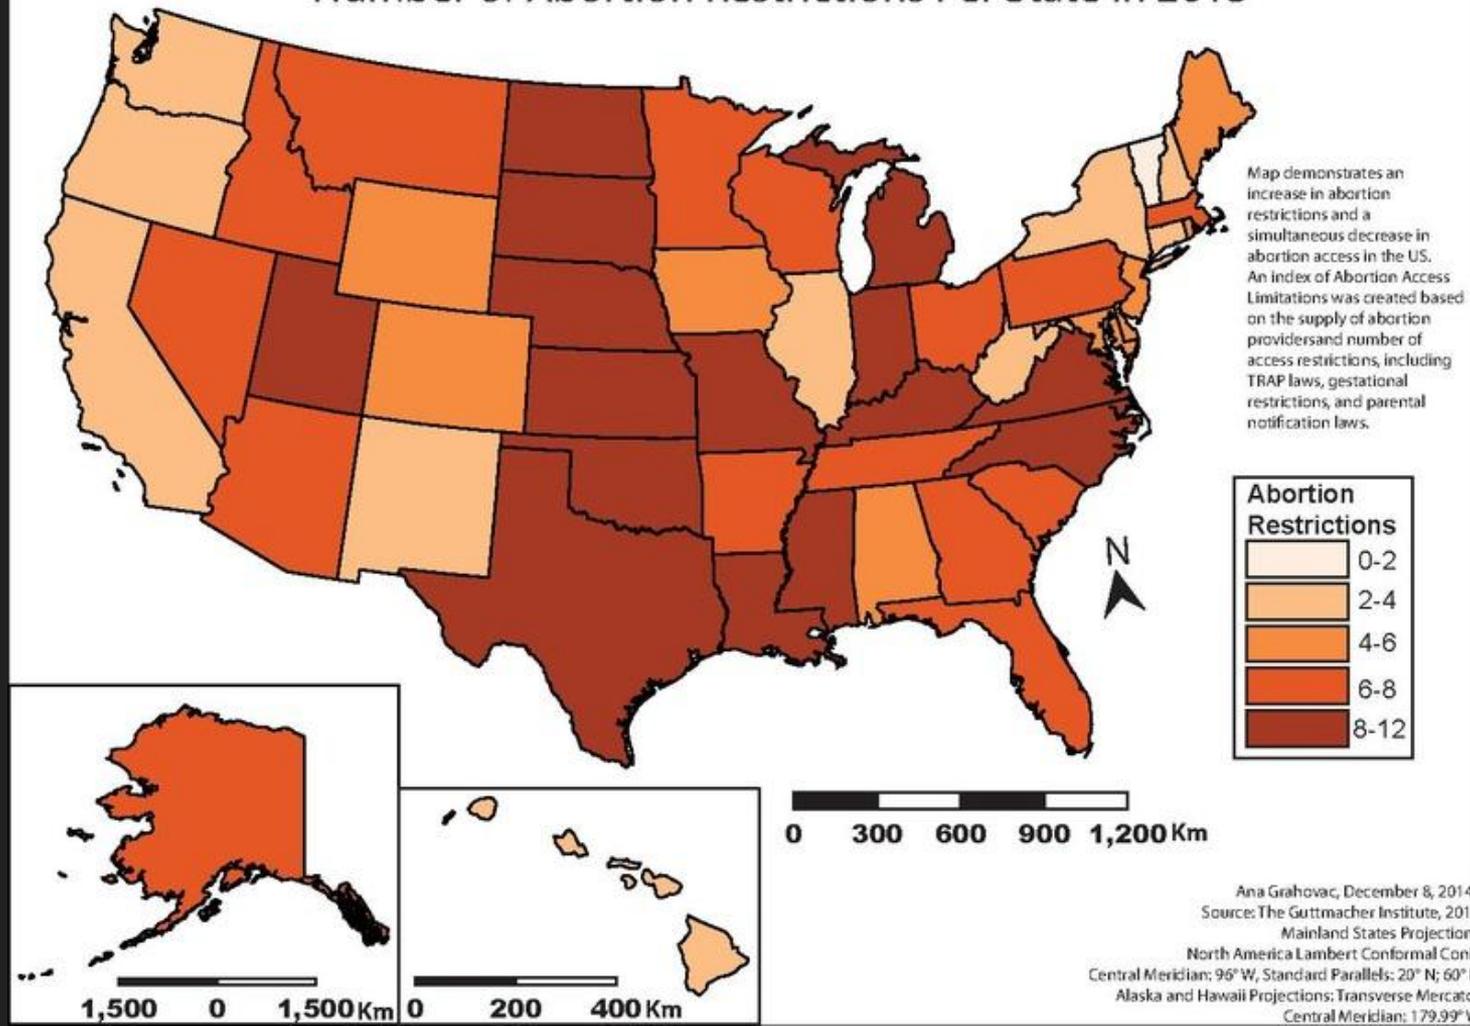

Very sincerely yours,

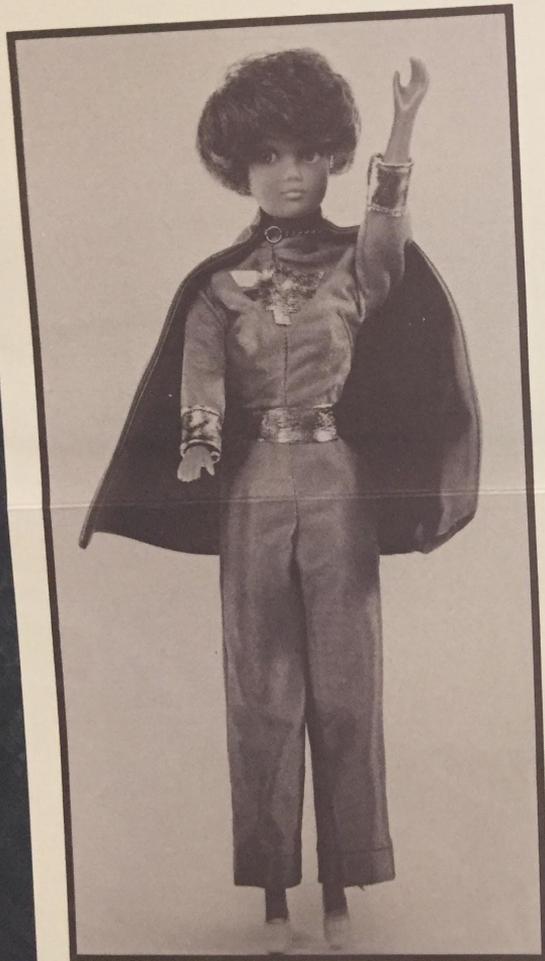

Howard M. Metzenbaum

ERA CALL TO MISSION

"Unless we give now, women will pay—in lower wages, lost opportunity and smaller benefit packages—for the rest of their lives."

Eleanor Smeal

President,

National Organization for Women

"The women of America have equally worked and sacrificed so that this nation could become a leader among nations. I believe that now this nation owes its women the right to equal protection under the law. . . . And take note, the campaign is not almost over, it has just begun."

Betty Ford

Honorary Chair,

ERA Countdown Campaign

This is an emergency . . . Unless something extraordinary happens, the Equal Rights Amendment will reach its deadline of June 30, 1982, just three states short of ratification. This will keep over half of our population out of the Constitution, possibly for another ten or twenty years."

Co-Chair,
